

Leicestershire & Rutland Ornithological Society

November Outing - Frampton Marsh

Saturday 20th November 2010

Frampton Marsh is situated on the edge of The Wash, the biggest and most important wetland in the UK, the reserve boasts new freshwater pools with islands, reedbed and wet grassland habitats, which are proving irresistible to the birds of The Wash. Meeting in the reserve car park at 0900, our focus will be on the wintering waders and wildfowl.

Directions:

Signposted from the A16 between Boston and Kirton, follow the signs to RSPB Frampton Marsh.

To book a place please contact Andrew Cliff no later than Monday 15th November 2010
Phone: 01530 814593 E-Mail - Andrew@checklandkindleysides.com

Next Outing - Attenborough Nature Reserve
Saturday 4th December 2010